Charities in its annual report, presented to the Legislature to-night, says that the abuses of diate steps must be taken to stop their further pauperizing tendency. Last year a bill was passed by the Legislature bringing these dispensavies under the supervision of the board, and providing regulations which would prevent these charitable institutions from being imposed upon by persons with abundant pay for medical attendance means to pay for medical attendance. The bill failed to become a law, owing to certain easonable objections to some of its provisions. It has been introduced at the present session of the Legislature with those objectionable feat ures eliminated. It has the support of the leading medical societies of New York city, and the State Board of Charities hopes it will commend itself to all who are interested in remedying wrong methods in dispensing medical relief.

"In the borough of Manhattan," the report says, "there are sixty-six or more dispensaries and from fifty-seven of these the board has received reports for the past year. These reports show 1,043,428 cases treated and 1,674,280 prescriptions furnished, an average of 18,305 cases and 29,373 prescriptions to each dispensary. Making use of these same averages for the nine dispensaries whose reports are not yet filed, indicates the treatment of 1,208,173 cases, and the furnishing of 1,938,637 prescriptions in this single borough during the perio of one year. These statistics by no means cover the volume of medical and surgical relief dispensed to outdoor patients in this borough, for there are many other sources of assistance of "Fortunately in no other part of the State is there any such like abuse in dispensing medical charity. That this is a wrongful state of affairs and produces an unfair competition with physi cians, who, unlike the dispensaries, are not partially supported by charitable donations, admits of no question. That it is also extremely pauperizing in its tendencies is equally true.

"It is practically agreed among those versed in the true principles of philanthropy that beneficence is lacking in any form of charitable assistance which works material injustice to the interests of those who do not seek charity. or which is not so safeguarded as to prevent the entinued dispensation of relief to those who do not require aid. Most of the dispensaries in New York city violate both of these principles and their managers apparently are not and never have been in the temper to come to some mutual understanding whereby better con-ditions shall prevail. In a large degree and for various reasons they have become competitors business to such an extent that it is proba-that nearly one-half of the inhabitants of York are now receiving practically free ble that nearly one-half of the inhabitants of New York are now receiving practically free medical treatment."

The board urges the Legislature to pass a law bringing the placing out of children under its control. The report reviews the inhuman procedures which have resulted from the present system of blacing out children, and declares that at present the doors are open for the consumation of many evils by agents who are responsible to no one for their acts and make thousands of dollars annually in this work. A remunerative portion of their lators is to relieve persons of abundant means of illegitimate children, and the board says this branch of the work presents an ample field for remedy.

The board considers that the evils, abuses, and resulting scandals connected with the present unregulated methods of placing out children have much to do with rotarding the progress of this beneficent form of philanthropic work. It approves, commends, and intends to encourage the placing out of children from institutions into family homes, but insists that such homes shall be decent homes, that suitable records shall be kept, and that all the rights of childhood and of parentage shall be respected by those who are engaged in a work, laudable when properly conducted, but intolerable when entered into from a purely commercial spirit.

"This merchandise of helpless childhood, says the board," for the purpose on the one hand of saying parents from the merited shame of their own misdoings, or communities from expense, and on the other hand of on riching the coffers of the debased, should no longer be permitted."

The board is opposed to Senator Ahearn's bill.

the coffers of the debased, should no longer be permitted."

The board is opposed to Senator Ahearn's bill providing that in New York city, where a parent or guardian desires to care for a child committed to any charitable institution, such parent or guardian shall be entitled to receive the money allowed by law for the maintenance, care and welfare of such child and paid by the city to the institution to which the child may have been committed. The board says that the amount of pension money which the city of New York would be called upon to pay out under this act is beyond computation.

Appropriations are recommended for the maintenance of State charitable institutions for the next fiscal year aggregating $1,036,000 and for additions and repairs $514,005.

The total revenue of the public charities dur-

The total revenue of the public charities dur-

for additions and repairs $514,905.

The total revenue of the public charitles during the last fiscal year was over $4,000,000 and that of the private charitres over $17,000,000. The public charities at the close of the fiscal year had nearly 20,000 inmates and the private charitres at the close of the fiscal year had nearly 20,000 inmates and the private charitres 48,000.

During the year 1,630 alien poor were removed from institutions in this State to their homes in other States and countries.

There coutinues to be an accumulation of evidence strengthening the board's belief that in certain parts of the State, notably in the city of New York and vicinity, there has been a greater growth of some forms of charity than necessity demands. There are over 4,000 vacant heds in children's institutions in New York city. On this point the report says:

"If one-half the thought and energy that are wasted in making the poor of our great cities dependent were used to encourage habits of incustry and a spirit of independence, the condition of the destitute would be materially improved and that of the State rendered more prosperous and satisfactory. The board conceives it to be one of its functions to seek to turn this mistirected energy into more useful channels of effort."

The board recommends that admission to the State Home at Oxford for dependent veterans wives or widows be limited to those married prior to April 13, 1865, the close of the war through the final chilstment of soldiers, instead of prior to 1880, as at present.

Regarding the State Soldiers and Saliors Home at Batt the report says that the prevalent evil existing there is idieness, and this is apparent in the resort to intoxicating drinks. There are a large number of saloons on the main thorough the remote to intoxicating drinks. are a large number of saloons on the main thoroughtare leading from Bath to the very gates of the home. The Lexislature should enact a law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within one mile of the home. This would result in the abolition of the canteen, which is maintained at the home by the State.

It is recommended that the cell portion of the State Reformatory for Women at Bedford, West-chester county, be remodelled into rooms such as those in the cettage buildings.

The board hopes that measures already under consideration for the removal of the Randall's Island House of Refuge from its present site to one in the turns districts and distant from any large city, and the transference of the institution entirely to State control, may be early realized.

The board is also of the opinion that effective tion entirely to State control, may be easy sized.

The board is also of the opinion that effective measures should be taken to prevent the feeble-minded, the idiatic, and the epileptic from giving increase to their kind.

The following recommendations for legislation are made by the board:

That the adoption of building plans for State or other charitable institutions be made subject to its supervision.

That a board of classification be formed, of which the President of this board shall be a member to classify salaries in State institutions subject to the board's supervision.

POLICEMAN MARES SI ABBESTS. All but Seven of His Sunday Prisoners Lot Go

Policeman Buckridge of the Eldridge street station did his first duty Sunday as a regular detective and astonished Magistrate Crane in the Essex Market Court yesterday by arraigning thirty-one prisoners, whom he captured, so he told the clerks who drew up the papers, without the assistance of a single other policeman. Buckridge's tour as a detective began early Sunday morning and ended at midnight of the same day. About half an hour after he started sleuthing a telephone call for a patrol wagon was received at the station. The message was from Buckridge, who said he had captured six push cart peddlers in Hester street. The wagon was despatched and the prisoners were locked up. Shortly afterward Buckridge walked into the police station with two small boys whom be caught playing "shinny" in Allen street. Before noon he arrested four boys for shooting craps in the Bowery and two old women for craps in the Bowery and two old women for nelling cigars. During the afternoon he brought into the station several more boys and two well-dressed men slightly under the influence of liquor. The boys were caught red-handed in playing craps. Buckridge, by the way, has red bair. Just before nightfall he captured an old Italian who was disturbing the contents of an ash barrel.

Italian who was disturbing the contents of an ash barrel.

Late Sunday night Buckridge received a tip that the law was being violated on the roof of the building at 9 Forsyth street. He got a dark lantern and a night stick from the Sergeant on duty in the station. He reached the roof without making a noise, because he had taken the precaution to put on a pair of rubbers. He saw four boys, whose ages averaged 14 years, playing craps by the light of a lantern. He stealthly approached them, and they surrendered without resistance. This completed his day's work.

When the urisoners were lined up before Magistrate Crane yesterday the Magistrate said:

"I have never seen such remarkable activity in the capturing of criminals since I have been on the bench."

Policeman Buckridge then told his stories of the miscoed of the prisoners.

on the bench."
Policeman Buckridge then told his stories of the misdeeds of the prisoners.
"Have these people been locked up all night?"
asked the Magistrate.
"Most of them have," replied Buckridge.
The Magistrate then locked over the papers.
He committed to the workhouse one of the prisoners arrested for intexteation, and lined three of the peddlers and three of the crap shooters $1 each. The rest of Buckridge's prisoners were discharged.

CAPTURED A BURGLAR-PEDDLER. One Jersey Woman find Vim Enough to Restst s Old Impaired Sight Came.

HACKENBACK, Jan. 24.-Jacob Groninger, bright young German living with his mother, Sophia Groninger, on the Schraalenburg road near Demarest, was this morning instrumental in having a man arrested who is believed to be the one wanted for several robberies in the central and southern part of the State. The man called at the Groninger house and insisted upon examining the woman's eyes, assuring her that they were imperfect and that he would fit them with glasses, Mrs. Groninger had sufficient force of character to drive the fellow off. Her son recalled a picture in a newspaper last week showing a robber who was charged with using chloroform and also with throwing a liquid in the eyes of women who submitted to examination for impaired sight.

Groninger got the paper and his mother identified her visitor from the picture. William Meyerhoff, a constable, was notified, and on his affidavi. Justice Dayton issued a warrant for the peddier as a suspicious character. The man gave his name as Abraham Cohen of New York, and said that he had never been in New Jersey until to-day, but on his person were found cards and papers indicating that he had been in Paterson, Newark, Bayonne, Elizabeth, Plainfield, and other places. He had a large handbag filled with cyeglasses and spectacles and one bottle of a clear, odorless liquid. He was locked up in Hackensack Jail to await further examination and identification. son recalled a picture in a newspaper last week

KILLED AT AN ELEVATED STATION.

Company Falls Down the Stairs. Charles E. Willard, a retired insurance agent, who lived at the Hotel Beresford, was killed yesterday morning by falling down the stairs of the elevated railroad station at Columbus avenue and Eighty-first street.

Mr. Willard left the hotel about 11:30 o'clock to go downtown on business. He walked briskly along Eighty-first street to the station, and, is he was nearing it, he heard a train approach-as news nearing it, no neard a train approaching.

He ran up the station steps, and in some way toppled and fell backward, striking his head heavily against the bottom of the stairs. Several passers by picked up Mr. Willard, who was unconscious. A physician who was sumoned examined Mr. Willard and pronounced him dead. His neck and skull were broken by the fall.

Mr. Willard, who was about 50 years old, was well known in insurance circles. He was for several years President of the Providence Life Insurance Company.

ALTAR AND CHANCEL IN FLAMES. Excitement in a Catholic Church During the PORT JERVIS, Jan. 24.-The Catholic Church at Hawley, Pa., was the scene of the wildest ex-citement during the reading of the first mass on Sunday morning. Father Judge, in moving one of the lighted candles at the altar, touched ome of the Christmas decorations, which had some of the Christmas decorations, which had been allowed to remain on account of the Warthlay-Spall wedding. They blazed up like a train of ginpowder, the diames running ground the altar, the chancel, and up to the celling. Women screamed, men shouted, and for a time it appeared as if many would be injured in the rush to escape. The inflammable material was pulled down to the floor and the fire beaten out. The entire front part of the church was charred and blas kened, and carpet and altar furniture were ruined. None of the worshippers was injured.

Where Scott Got Miss Rooney's Ring.

Miss Mary Rooney, employed by the Standard Incandescent Light Company of 147 Centre street, charged Charles J. Scott, another em ployee of the company, several days ago with ployee of the company, several days ago with stealing from her a diamond ring valued at $150. It was stated at the time of Scott's ar-raignment in the Centre Street Police Court that the ring had been stolen while Miss Rooney and a friend were taking supper with Scott. Miss Rooney says that Scott took the ring from her in the company's workshop, about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Dec. 24.

Incendiarism at Mahanoy City.

READING, Pa., Jan. 24.-There undoubtedly was a well-organized effort to burn the town of Mahanoy City at the height of the tempest last night. Four fires in different sections of the city started about the same time. In two instances men were seen running from the burning buildings. A mob gava chase, but the suspects escaped. At the third fire a suspicious character was arrested. He pleaded for his liberty, declaring his innocence. The total loss is $50,000.
